

Navalny Token

WhitePaper V1.0

● Introduction

Nowhere is there a more acute need for a decentralized and a reliably anonymous payment instrument today than in Russia and Belarus. Russians and Belarusians need an instrument that would allow to crowdfund legitimate and home-grown efforts of Russians and Belarusians to bring about the long-awaited democratic change. Unfortunately, direct political donations and crowdfunding is illegal and very dangerous in both countries.

The NAVALNY coin is a BEP20 token representing a 21st century response of the crypto world to this challenge. The NAVALNY token is not only a safe and completely anonymous crowdfunding tool, it is also a community token, involving measures such as burning of tokens and distribution of commission shares to the benefit of the community cause.

● Tokenomics

NAVALNY Token is a cryptocurrency that is built to the maximum benefit of the people who hold it and every activity that the token makes rewards the holders. Being heavily linked to political activism and to struggle of the people for the democracy, it is meant to contribute to that cause and to the holders through every action it takes. This has been designed in the following way:

- Every transaction of Navalny Token has a commission of 3%, which is divided in three equal parts
- 1% from each transaction is distributed among the holders of the token
- 1% from each transaction is added to the liquidity pool of the token
- 1% from each transaction is accumulated in a special charity wallet, which will be accumulated to crowdfund the democratic efforts in Russia and Belarus on a monthly basis

The total supply is 1,000,000,000 (one billion) NAVALNY tokens.

30% of the initial supply, 30,000,000 (thirty million) NAVALNY tokens were burnt with the launch of the token. Developers and the team hold to around 9% of the token totally.

Last, but certainly not least, massive number of coins will be automatically burnt the very day V. Putin is no longer in office in Russia, thus automatically boosting the coin's value and rewarding its holders.

Our token is built in a way that it's holders receive double benefit from every single transaction and the growth of the community and every transaction also gives double benefits to the cause and the mission of the token straight away – through crowdfunding and through ordinary growth.

● Use of funds

NAVALNY token is created, built, designed and funded by people who believe in the increasing power of the cryptocurrency and the blockchain and their role in the change that we are all after in the everyday life around the globe. Being the crypto enthusiasts that we are direct all funds and income to the growth of the community and the benefits of the holders. Our crowdfunding wallet goes straight to the support of the democratic struggle, while our marketing budget is dedicated to the traditional promotion as well as more innovative, political actions are taken to raise the awareness of the target communities and engage them in the movement that is the NAVALNY token. Our funding, besides the obvious token growth comes from our team, various angel investors and contacts that take big interest in the development of this project. The marketing campaign involves a wide array of actions engaging crypto enthusiasts/influencers and political subjects alike.

● What makes Navalny Token unique?

Just like unjustly imprisoned Alexey Navalny, the team of NAVALNY token project believes democratic Russia and Belarus is possible. Our mission is to make this coin into wave of people power against dictators. This is something that has simply never been done through crypto yet, and we plan to lead this innovation and transform the project into nothing less than a civil movement, crowdfunded by the token. Besides the unique structure and tokenomics, the cause that the token serves is unprecedented in the crypto world – we simply intend to help people in their struggle for democracy and contribute to the free world where every one of us dreams to live in. From its very inception, the mission of the token is a unifying one and goes way past the ordinary commercial reasons, in fact, it's more a political statement and start of a movement than a mere crypto project. It creates a movement that comes from the people, is run by the people, and is for the people – and we believe that all of that is unprecedented in the crypto world.
